

The Montauk Highway bridge to Quogue continues to undergo repairs by a contractor engaged by Suffolk County. The project started out as a painting project and bulkhead rehabilitation that was slated to take approximately 2 weeks. Upon sandblasting, the need for additional repairs was discovered, and some structural steel needs to be replaced. This additional work has begun and according to a representative of Suffolk County should take approximately 2 months to complete.